

Creating Engaged Employees

Leadership is a choice, not a gift. Development is a process not a natural occurrence.

Fully engaged employees drive growth and success in any business. Our biggest opportunity in business is getting our people to fully utilize the skills, knowledge, and experience they already possess to make the business more successful, innovative, and competitive. This workshop will help leaders learn what drives employee engagement and how to lead in ways that cause it, support it, and sustain it in your business.

5 Steps of Leadership Development

Outcomes – Participants will gain the foundational abilities to do the following:

- Define and build a culture that creates and sustains high levels of employee engagement
- Build leadership habits and patterns that enable teams to contribute more, accomplish more, and work together more effectively
- Work with under-engaged team members to help them fully commit to the opportunities and challenges ahead of them
- Understand what causes employees to fully engage and leverage that understanding to lead in ways that consistently improves that engagement
- Develop a process for improving engagement in environments where it's lacking or inconsistent

Who Should Attend

- Existing and emerging business leaders and managers looking to develop their leadership capability and to more effectively shift culture, cause behavior change, and create fully engaged teams.

Length

- Creating Engaged Employees is offered as a one or two day workshop with the longer version allowing for more real-world practice and a deeper understanding of the concepts.
